Suspicious circumstances surround the death of Mrs. Stanford. She was taken ill at 11 o'clock, and said: "I have been poisoned." Her last words were: "This is a horrible death to the."

An autopsy on the remains of Mrs. Stanford was performed this afternoon. The physician who conducted the autopsy says the cause of death was tetanus of the respiratory organs, but that he cannot tell how the tetanus was brought about until after an examination of the contents

No inquest will be held until High Sheriff Henry receives the reporof the chemists. This report will probably be received tomorrow.

Before retiring last night, Mrs. Stanford took a dose of bicarbonate of soda, which she purchased in San Francisco. It is reported that the soda contained strychnine, but this report cannot be verified. Dr. Humphris, who attended Mrs. Stanford, is now making an examination of the contents of the bottle, which has not been touched since Mrs. Stanford left San

When she returned to the hotel she seemed very cheerful, and went immediately to the dining-room, where she ordered only soup, saying that she was not hungry, as she had esten a hearty lunche She spent the evening on the verandas of the hotel, and apparently was in good spirits.

Mr. Heunish, who, as already told, was the first to see Mrs. Stanford after she was taken ill, said to the cor respondent of the Associated Press: "I retired shortly before 11 o'clock last night, and soon fell asleep. a.m.—The great and overshadowing question for the Russians, that of granting the people a voice in the government, remains undecided at Tears-koe-Selo. The Emperor has not yet given the final word. In view of many conflicting statements printed abroad the Associated Press is authorized to make the above definite announcement. At the same time, it can be stated that the recent developments in Russia which brought the social and economic and educational life of the empire almost to a standall have left the Emperor no illusions regarding the strength of the popular demand for something in the nature of constitutional government. In addition to the addresses voted by the Zemstvos, Doumas, educational and other bodies, he has received thousands of private memorials.

The ministers with whom the Emperor has discussed the problems since the inauguration of the cabinet divergent opinions, but by a process of elimination two propositions have been definitely rejected, the first, a constitutional monarchial regime, based upon Western models, with a parifiament to frame laws and control the budget; and the second, the convening of the zemski sobor. The former proposition has been rejected on the ground that Russia is not yet ripe for constitutional government, and the second because the zemski sobor is now an anachronism.

The Oregon came down under her own steam and without aid from any other craft. Her progress was not retarded by the dire, her pumps being constantly at work and holding the flames in check. A heavy list to port and the smoke rising from the skylights were the only evidences of the steamer's distress, her hull, decks, staterooms and cabins being intact.

Upon entering the harbor, the tig took the Oregon to the spot where she now lies, and, as it was high water at the time and her nose was run well up into the sand, she was made fast to the shore. The pumps, which had been storped during the landing, were then storped during the landing, were then started working again, and the services of the tug were dispensed with, under instructions, however, that she would again be called upon should the vessel's own apparatus break down, of which there is some danger, owing to the fact that it has been operating day and night since the fire broke out.

EUREKA, March 1.—Up to dark, the efforts of the officers and crew of the Oregon to quench the fiames have been unsuccessful. The method adopted of attempting to fill the vessel with water was inadequate to the situation.

It has been determined that the vessel cannot be flooded by means of berown pumps and the men are now engaged in boring holes through the steel plates through which hose will be inserted. A tug or other engines will then be secured and the space between decks which the water now being pumped in does not reach, will be flooded.

Ing pumped in does not reach, will be gooded.

Since pumping began this morning, the Oregon has righted considerably and is still further up on the beach. The bow of the vessel is now even with the shore line at low water. The steel plates are becoming botter and the smoke is still rolling out from her after skylight. To remove the hatches would give a draught that would certainly encompass the destruction of the ship. It is believed the flames will be under control by tomorrow night.

The efforts of today will be redoubled tonight, officers being fearful of an year. From the United States the rate which Broughton is supposed to have framed.

The bill promulgates a new principle in the division of counties. It provides that 20 per cent. of the population of any county may petition the Supervisors for a division. The petitioners are obliged to put up a bond of $5000 to indemnify the county for election expenses in case separation falls to carry. The Supervisors on the filing of the bond and the petition and after the approval of the same, are obliged to submit the matter to a vote, not of the people of the whole county, but to the people of the district which desires the separation. This is where the bug lies, as a two-thirds majority of the people in the district desiring separation is enough to secure county division.

tion is enough to secure county division.

It is hinted at the Capitol that the measure is especially designed for the gurpose of permitting Pomona to separate from Los Angeles county, but none of the representatives from Southsern California could be found this evening who would verify the story or lend any color of truth to it.

PIHST POISONING STORY.

The story of an attempt to poison Mrs. Stanford in this city was first made public on the 18th of last month, when it was declared that strychnine had been found in a bottle of mineral water, of which she had taken several drinks. She was made ill, and an analysis showed the presence of the deadly drug in the water. To Dr. William Boericke, who attended her. Mrs. Stanford told the story of what she believed to have been an attempt upon her life. She suspected no one, and on the physician's advice soon went to the country. Returning later, apparently in improved health, she sailed for China and Japan by way of Honoicilu, February 18, arriving at the Hawalian port five days later. The alleged attempt to poison her was investigated by a detective agency, but no results were obtained, and the matter apparently was dropped.

In her California-street residence, the first of the handsome mansions erected on Nob Hill, there were lighten persons at the time of her litness, which began while drinking the water January 14. There were, besides Mrs. Stanford, and Wing, the Chinese factorum, who had been in Mrs. Stanford's employ for fwenty-five years. Ah Young, the house boy: Yeng, the cook: Ah Lee, the second cook: Wong, the second butler; Nora Hopkins, the housemald: Elizabeth Richmond, a maid formerly in the employ of Mrs. Stanford, said today: "Mrs. Stanford was in the labit of taking bi-carbonate of soda. She kept it in her dressing-room, and often took a little of it in water when she are anything that disagreed with her."

reached Charles G. Lathrop, brother of Mrs. Jane Lathrop Stanford, at the university today. The message was signed by Dr. Humphris, a prominent physician of Honolulu, who was attending Mrs. Stanford. No further particulars being received, it was supposed that death resulted from a severe case of grip, which Mrs. Stanford contracted just before she started on a health-seeking trip to Japan.

A few minutes after 8 o'clock, and just after the first-hour classes had assembled in the university, the news of Mrs. Stanford's death spread from building to building, and students and professors silke dropped all work, and by the time the official notice that the university would be closed until further notice came from President Jordan's office, the whole student body, had quietly retired from the quadrangles. All business at the university is temporarily at a standstill, and the university and the 2000 inhabitants of the last of the founders of Stanford University.

By a rising vote, the Senate agreed to adjourn in respect to the memory of Mrs. Jane L. Stanford. SKETCH OF HER LIFE.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—Ex-clusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Jane L. Stan-ford was born in Albany, N. Y., Au-gust 25, 1828. She was the daughter of Dyer and Jane Lathrop, and a direct Dyer and Jane Lathrop, and a direct descendant of John Lathrop. On her mother's side, she traced her ancestry back to Revolutionary days, Daniel Shields having fought in that combat under tien. Lafayette, rising to a cap-taincy from the humble post of drum-mer hov.

unner tien, Larayette, rising to a captaincy from the humble post of drummer boy.

Jane Lathrop married Leland Stanford at Albany September 39, 1859, and two years later they came to California. In all of Senator Stanford's California career Mrs. Stanford gave him sympathetic aid, and when he stepped into the gubernatorial chair,
Mrs. Stanford was foremost in the accial life of the State.

Then came one of the keenest sorrows of the Stanford's life—the death of their son. Senator and Mrs. Stanford declised to rear a memorial to his memory that would live forever, and they conceived the Idea of the university. In 1891, the doors were thrown open to the youth of the State. When Senator Stanford died at Fale Alto, the original grant was handed down to Mrs. Stanford and she devoted her every energy to its development. Her gifts to the University have been many and numerous, and she had spent thousands of dollars in furthering plans which she evolved from time to time.

In 1886 Mrs. Stanford deeded all of plans which she evolved from time to time.

In 1899, Mrs. Stanford deeded all of the property originally set apart to the University and a considerable amount more, aggregating in value some $38,000,000. In 1893, she resigned control of the University, as vested in her by the original grant, and surrendered its future care and management to a Board of Trustees, of which she subsequently was chosen president.

THIRTEEN OF EIGHTEEN IN FAVOR OF ADAMS

Message by the President DENVER, March 1.—After a long of executive session of the gubernatorial contest committee this afternoon thirteen of the eighteen Republican members signed a report in favor of continuing Gov. Adams in the Right of Secretary of Agri-favor of continuing Gov. Adams in the office. The other five Republican members, including Chatrman William H. Griffith, refused to sign either report. Senator Alexander, one of the Republicans who refused to sign the Peabody report, made a hard fight during the afternoon for the rejection of the claims of both the contestor and contestee and the senting in the Governor's chair of Lieut.-Gov. Jesse McDonald. He found no supporters of, the plan in the committee, but he may bring it up before the joint assembly as a compromise measure. Tomorrow the House and Senate will meet in joint session and receive the report of the committees. Time will be allowed to the two sides for argument and in the afternoon it is expected that John M. Waldron, chief counsel for Peabody, will open arguments. It is

WASHINGTON, March 1 .- SENATI sought to have the measure amended so as to revoke the ruling of the Secretary of the Treasury providing for a rebute of the duty on wheat used in the manufacture of flour for export, but Mr. Lodge, having the bill in charge, made a plea for the passage of the measure unchanged, and the amendment was voted down. The bill was then passed.

EFFECT OF WOLCOTT'S DEATH.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
DENVER, March 1.—[Exclusive Dis-DENVER, March 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is much speculation here over the probable effect of the death of Senator Edward O. Wolcott, at Monte Carlo, today, on the gubernatorial contest which is nearing a conclusion. Democrats have relied on the feeling between the two factions of the Republicans—the Wolcotties and the anti-Wolcotts—to prevent the strong Republicans majority in the Legislature from acting harmoniously and seating Peabody on a strictly political basis. Republicans tonight assert that the death of the leader of one of the factions presages the restoration of harmony and the seating of Peabody as Governor and that it is the hand of fate in the contest.

Republicans in Colorado split on the silver issue when it was a factor in politics, and Wolcott, then Senator.

the sidewalks making such a pool that it was necessary to ball out the graves before the bodies could be taken up.
Adjoining these were graves that is that the graves so wet may have been made during the rainy season, and while the soil was loose the water saturated them, finally seeping was retained; while the other graves

The famous humorist was fairly off The famous humorist was fairly off his feet for once. He jockeyed with common-place talk until he steadled himself and gathered up his mental lexicon. He then painted a beautiful word-ploture of his gratitude, and found glowing adjectives to describe his estimate of the generous parishioners who take pardonable pride in their versatile and popular pastor. He quit with a joke.

"Go to England for you!" he said. "I'd go to Russia for you, and if the old Atlantic was like a mill-pond or as bad as the ocean is between here and Catalina, I'd forgive you for sending me when you know what a poor sailor I am."

ing me when you know what a poor sailor I am."

When twenty new members were received he taiked upon the great progress of the church and said he believed God had ordered the old church torn down just so they would have to get out of it.

"The only way to move us is to tear down the church," he said, "and I wouldn't be surprised if the same thing happened again."

After the vacation incident had passed, C. R. Harris introduced the building project and called upon Mrs. Burdette to read the prospectus of The Auditorium Company, which has been incorporated under the laws of Callfornia.

these men cannot become inured to the scenes they have to witness, and daily they are quitting the work. The gathering up of human bones, patches of hair, bits and shreds of grave clothes, and the seeking of missing members in the muck and mire of the watery graves is enough to try the hardlest and most unsensitive of men. Yesterday several men left their work when a particularly distressing case came to light, and some were so overcome that they were laid out on the grass.

The records show that there were 170 interments in the old cametery. Of these twenty-two had been moved up to yesterday, and the work of yesterday resulted in the disinterment of fifteen bodies. The moving will be hurried along as rapidly as possible, and it is expected that the last grave beside the High School will be relieved of its occupant and refilled with earth within two weeks.

The new cemetery consists of thirty acres, purchased of K. C. Wells of Riverside, and lying just to the west of the Jewish cemetery, at the junction of the Downey and Whittier county roads. It is about three miles from the easterly end of First street. The tract was purchased for $13,000.

The story of the purchase of the old Hazard Pavilion property, now known as Temple Auditorium, was told in The Times some weeks ago, when a company was formed for the purpose of erecting a combination business-block and auditorium. The ground cost $155,000 and the contemplated building will cost $300,000. It will contain six storerooms, 118 offices, a choral hall, Berean Hall, banquet hall, and an auditorium capable of seating 5000 people. The corporation is entirely separate from Temple Church and the effort last night was to secure as large a subscription of stock as possible among the members of that church, for the avowed intention is that they shall eventually own the property. The shares are sold at $190 each, and the only way to make smaller subscriptions is to combine and purchase a share. The total subscriptions now amount to about $100,000 The new lots have been laid out in exactly, the same order as those of the old cemetery, so that the graves of e bodies removed will all occupy e same relative positions. The bod-and monuments are removed to be new grounds free of expense to the Despite this concession, in several bases objections have been raised. In the cases, it is understood the relatives have threatened injunction proceedings, but just what they would aim by such a move is hard to determine. The tract has been consinued and sold to the city for school rounds, and the graves would like cared for unless removed.

Yuma Project Means More Than Storing Water.

Joseph B. Lippincott, resident supervising engineer of the Geological Survey, has returned from an official trip to Washington, D. "I was ordered to Washington," said Mr. Lippincott, "to report on various matters relative to the development of trigation along the Colorado River. The Yuma preject had become somewhat complicated owing to various protests that had been filed, and was under consideration by three departmentsh of the government. The President took particular interest in this project, and almost entirely through his efforts the obstacles were removed, and advertisements issued for bids for the construction of this work. These bids will be opened on the 15th of March, and we expect construction to begin on this project in the early summer.

We shall be furnished with numerous varieties of date nalms from Kyynt varieties of date palms from Egypt, Algeria and Arabia, also with varie Algeria and Arabia, also with varieties of seeds and grasses that appear to be particularly adapted to this region. The Department of Agriculturehas a corps of agricultural experts who have visited the valleys of the Tigris and the Nile, and they believe we can transplant many valuable plants from those regions to the regions of the Lower Colorado. The pistachio nut is one of the new products they think will be adapted to this trans-cultivation.

When he came back, as he walked up the asise amidst the hilarious clapping of hands, the humorist said:

The weekly prayer meeting was assembled at the Auditorium and at an appropriate break in the meeting Mr. Burdette was asked to retire for a few moments. When he was brought in again, and couldn't for the life of him imagine what the joke was, Matthon B. There were several other reasons sufficient in themselves to prevent the acceptance of the proposition offered by the Imperial Valley Water Users' Association—the price was considered excessive. A new treaty with Mexico is considered necessary to meet the situation involved in this case. It will also be necessary to obtain special legislation from Congress if such a proposition is ever accepted. The State Department may undertake these negotiations.

The particular offenses charges against him were the raising of money from acquaintances to bind real estate and other options that had no existence in fact, and pooketing the cash instead of placing it in escrew according to agreement, as fully explained in The Times immediately after his disappearance. It is presumed that young Condee has been making the home of his father-in-law, G. W. Dickson, a reputable real estate man of Riverside, his refuge of late. According to the self-confessed tout, no less than a dosen private handbooks are being conducted in offices, rooms in hotels and other places in the city. Prominent men are behind the books, he says, and clerks, stenographers, book-keepers and waiters are being roped in by unscrupulous crooks.

Pulsifer says that a son of a United States Senator is interested in one of these joints, the proprietors of which make boasts of their political pull.

Pulsifer declares he is willing to expose the whole bunch, but as he is moneyless with a wife and two children on his hands to support, he thinks the authorities should pay him something for his information.

That tipsters are taking money from unsuspecting victims in the city, and pretending to bet the amount on the races, is a known fact to the police. Pulsifer's case is by no means the only one so Capt. Auble is informed, and men from Auble's office are busily engaged gathering evidence against the suspected parties.

Capt. Auble says he is determined to rid the city of a nest of blood suckers pretending to bet money for clients on the Ascot races. The bookmakers, clockers, touts and handicappers out at the track are had enough, but the "agents" in the city are a thousand times worse, for when a victim once gives up his money, he has no possible chance of ever seeing it again because if his horse should win by chance, he will be informed that a mistake occurred and the money was bet on an-

Mr. Fleischman, who is youthful in appearance and seemingly between 32 and 40 years old, is serving his second term as chief executive of the big Ohiocity. When he retires from office at the coming fall election he will have held the place a trifle less than six years. Upon taking office first he succeeded a "reform" administration and when again a candidate he was returned by a vote aimost double that of his opponent on a "municipal" ticket. "I am a Republican organisation man," said Mr. Fleischman, "We all are Republicans in Ohio, you know. WELSH HAPPINESS.

Observance of St. David's Day by Sons and Daughters of Cambria.

and Daughters of Cambria.

The Weish people of Los Angeles fittingly celebrated St. David's day last night in the Weish Church on Crocker street. The edifice was crowded with an enthusiastic audience of the sons and daughters of old Cambria, a fine literary and musical programme was rendered, refreshments were served, and a good time generally was had.

Rev. Dr. E. P. Thomas, who presidec, delivered a learned and eloquent address, taking St. David's life and work and the history of the Weish people as his themes. Dr. Thomas delighted his hearers with his flashes of Ceitic wit and thrilled them with his eloquent memories of the ancient Ceitic glories. The other address of the evening was delivered by John S. McGroarty of The Times editorial staff.

A feature of the evening was the "Bardic Greetings," which is a time-honored custom of all great Weish celebrations, and consists of original poems in the Cymric tongue composed especially for the occasion in hand. The efforts of the bards lact night were pronounced exceptionally fine and were hailed with cheers.

The voca: and instrumental programme was participated in by many of the noted local Weish singers and performers, among them being the kinses Marguernte Jones, Getta Isaac and Sarah E. Evans, Mmes. E. P. Taomas, William Jones and William Local Stars of the evening and were repeatedly enecred. There was also some Charon, and his talented whe wood stars of the evening and we peatedly encored. There was also great chorus singing, for which Weish are noted, the programme concluded by the anthem "Hen ty Nhadau," led by R. G. Roberts

ON TRIAL FOR DOUBLE MURDER.

JOHN M'CLURE ARRAIGNED FOR GUN AND PISTOL PLAY.

Slew A. Zedicoff and Jerry O'Shea in San Padro-street Stable in Dis-pute Over Fifty-cent Halter—Miss-ing Witness Walks Calmly Into Court, Case Proceeds.

John McClure, the cripple who in a frenzy of rage killed two men in a San Pedro-street livery stable on December 12 last, was brought to trial for his life before Judge Smith and a jury yesterday.

The double killing was an extraordinary affair. Investigations have falled to show any cause other than a dispute over a halter, worth about 50 cents.

McClure was a mining man. He had come into town from the Panamint Mountains. In answer to an advertisement he had driven his horse and wagon to Bennett's livery. No. 225 San Pedro street, and offered it for sale. When the deed was closed, McClure mentioned as an afterthought that he wanted to keep an old halter that was in the wagon. Bennett agreed, but his partner, A. Zodicoff, dissented and refused. But this refusal was not in the hearing of the defendant. The latter and Bennett went into the office and McClure dropped the halter in the corner of the room. After the bill of sale had been written out and the money paid over, he and Bennett stood for a short time talking about mining propositions. Finally McClure started to go, and discovered that his halter had disappeared. He became enraged and swore that he "would not allow any man to film-flam him." Zodicoff is credited with having aneaked the halter while the two were talking.

aneaked the halter while the two were talking Bennett allayed the rising storm by assuring McClure that if he would be around next day he would see that the halter was laid aside for him. McClure went away. On the next morning he was on hand before the livery stable was opened. When the gates swung open he met Zodicoff in the front part of the stable. What then occurred is a mooted point. Angry words were interchanged, and McClure was heard to say that he would have the halter, while Zodicoff protested that he should not. The next heard was a pistol shot, and Zodicoff ran into the street and fell to the ground, crying out: "My God, I am killed! The man has killed me!" He died quickly.

into the street and fell to the ground, crying out: "My God. I am killed! The man has killed me!" He died quickly.

Immediately afterward another plated shot rang out. The first shot had attracted the attention of Jerry O'Shéa, who was at work in the rear of the stable. At long range McClure fired at him, and followed with three other shots as he advanced to where O'Shea was standing. As O'Shea drupped to the ground McClure was seen to go and stand over the prostrate form and eight or nine times stab the body with a long knife. Then he wasked out of the stable and when confronted by the police officers he surrendered his pistel and knife. He said he had just killed a couple of men. "There are my-tools," he remarked, as he handed over the weapons, "and I'm glad I fone it." The suposition of the godsecution is that O'Shea was coming to the relief of Zodicoff and in that way drew down the vengeance of the defendant upon his own head.

The defense probably will attempt to show that in the fracas McClure was knocked down, and from that time on was fighting for his life.

The principal witness for the prosecution is a man named H. F. McAfee. Yesterday Deputy District Attorney McComas, who with Mr. Fleming, is conducting the case, informed the court that McAfee had disappeared from his residence and place of business. He asked that a bench warrant issue. For the moment it was made a matter of suspicion that the principal witness for the prosecution had been spirited away, and an adjournment of the case was taken until 2 o'clock. But long before that hour the witness came strolling into court, and after the noon recess the trial began with the impaneling of a jury. This morning the taking of testimony will begin.

SMARTEST MAN ALIVE.

BUT HE CURSES THE CITY.
All kinds of disasters may be anticipated if Charles Neale has the power he claims to possess. Never has he launched his curse against anyone that on did not will away and die he claims to possess hever has he launched his curse against anyone that the person did not will away and die, he said yesterday. Neale is stone deaf and was, examined on an insanity charge yesterday by means of pendi and paper. He is not mute and has a voice thirt sounds life a steam califope. He was emmored of Miss Emma Witt, the deaf mute, who was married by Justice Pierce a short time ago, and since then Neale has piried for his lost hye.

Being asked if he had any property, the crasy streek is Neale became very apparent.

"I'm the victim of a conspiracy," he said, "for I have a rich uncle in England, another in Scotland, and my sister in Santa Barbara is worth a good deal of money. I hal an apparation and know afficiabut the game that a being worked. I have no use for dreams but apparitions I do believe in." The Judge wrote on a silp of paper that the commission was going to send him to the State Hospital at Patton for treatment. Neale read the words and then asked in a loud, rasping voice: "For how long?" The court wrote in reply: "Until you are well again."

Neale sprang to his feet and drew himself erect. Lifting his hand alort, and with venom in his face, he said. "As God is my judge you'll be missed; that's my curse." He has had a crazy notion that whomsoever he cursed would euffer and while at the County Hospital repeatedly spoke of the curses he had piled in against the city of Los Angeles. Last evening Neale was taken to Patton.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.
DREAMED DREAMS—Mrs. E. O.
Hirschier was granted a divorce from
C. W. Hirschier by Judge Allen yesterday, on the ground of extreme cruelty.
Both parties were quite young and married three years ago. The husband soon became irritable and unhappy and this wife could never please him. To make matters worse he began to suspect his wife, and said that he had dreamed that she had been untrue.
When not engaged in maligning his wife he was flourishing a revolver over her head, and the young wife had quite an exciting life. Such an existence could have only one ending and the end came when the wife left her husband to shift for himself.

SKIPPED. TO ALASKA-Ruth A. Tomilison was yesterday granted a divorce by Judge Allen, divorcing her from Walter J. Tomlinson, on the ground of eruelty. The parties were married four years ago, but soon got to spatting with one another, and finally the husband abandoned his home and baby and went to Alaska.

home and baby and went to Alaska.

SENT TO PATTON—Mrs. Mary Hale was committed to the State Hospital at Patton by Judge Wilbur yesterday. About five weeks ago a son of Mrs. Hale died at the home on South Hill street from acute mania, and the shock was so great, that the mother fell-into a comatose condition from which she could not be aroused. She was removed to the sanitarium at Sixth and Beaudry avenue, of which Mrs. Taibot is the matron, and there came to herself. A sister of the patent charged the nurses at the sanitarium with having been brutal to Mrs. Hale, and stated that she had found on her body large bruises where they had beaten her when she refused to do what she was told on the instant.

FOUND THE MONEY—James Pri-

had beaten her when she refused to do what she was told on the instant.

FOUND THE MONEY—James Pailos, a Greek, was arraigned before Justice Pierce yesterday on the charge of having stolen a wagonload of oranges from Morris Hurwitz at Charter Oak, the fruit being of the value of 445. He was held in 3250 ball, and his examination was set for March II. Psilos went among his friends in the corridor and in a very short time a cash ball was forthcoming. The defendant claims that arrangements had been made for the purchase of the oranges and that no one being at the place to deliver them he loaded his wagon himself rather than waste wiot of time.

THE MURRELL DIVORCE—Lesta C. Murrell sued her husband, Bert W. Murrell, for divorce but failed to press her case when he filed a cross-complaint charging her with adultery. The parties were married at Passadena in March, 1904, and lived together up to July 4, when by agreement the husband went to 5an Jose to spy out the land, and if he liked the place his wife was to-follow him. He did like it and sent for his wife, but she delayed going as long as she could and then wrote that she was going to live with him no longer. The husband returned to this city to investigate and discovered his wife living with a man who was passing under the name of Roy Forey.

HAWKINS DIVORCE—Arthur L. Hawkins of Pasadena secured a di-vorce from Mrs. Ella Hawkins. THE HOLE ESTATE—Marcia E. Hole of West Eighth street has petitioned for probate of the will of the late Osborne E. Hole, who died on February 3, aged 61 years. The deceased left an estate which consists of real property valued at $51,625, and personal property valued at $11,105.92. Under the will legracies are left to relatives in Iowa, a bequest is made to the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Marshalltown, Is., etc.

The Circuit Court of Appeals has sustained Judge Wellborn's decision in the case of Laurete Holmes versus the Santa Fé-Pacific Railroad. The suit was brought, as will be remembered, by Holmes to recover dismages for personal injuries. THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL Few People Know How Useful it is In Preserving Health and Beauty.

Neafly everybody knows that char-coal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onlons and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe enthartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much-improved condition of the general health, better complexion, aweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the beachts of charcoal lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe it get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

but it is doubtful if the books made any money on acount of the fierce play on some of the winners.

The best thing of the day was the rank outsider Tuck Back in the fourth race. Many a good bunch of money was taken out of the books on this one, as he opened at 30 to 1 and was backed so strongly by dozens of people that his post price was 16 to 1. It is said that one horseman cleaned up $1500 on the victory and many pikers got him at 30 to 1 and from that down to 16 to 1, large delegations getting on wnsor the word west around the ring that Tuck Back had been prepared for the race. He was second into the stretch to the pacemaker, Sir Christopher, and then in the run home he beat the post favorite, Palmist, by two lengths.

The first good article to be handed out was Miss Provo in the second race, and strongly supported by the wise brigade she won at 6 to 1. This was one of the hard races of the day to pick a winner out of, there being considerable play on various, others in the race but under a vigorous ride by McDaniel. Miss Provo was the best.

Not a little money was lost on the favorite, Iras, in the fifth race, but she would doubtless have won easily had she not been fouled by Bugle Horn in the stretch. Bugle was fifth and in the run home jammed both Iras and Freesias into the fence and by this act was enabled to win from Invictus but the judges disqualified Bugle and gave the race to Invictus, Freesias being placed second and Iras thrd.

As a wind-up, Metilakatia took the last race at 5 to 1, Durbar being second and the favorite Beautiful and Best fourth. As in all the races many of the horses were nibbled: and a very few dollars would often serve to cut the odds on any horse, so afraid were the bookmakers that a surprise would be sprung on them.

Oxford won the purse cace at six furions, beating Requiter and the favorite Princess Tilania very easily. The feature of this race was the heavy play on Fustian and to the axion when Henle got his hands on the bail.

Morley's men did not all report at Chutes Park yesterday noon for a very good reason—not all are in the State. Most of those now in California put in an appearance, however, and by the end of the week the club ought to be fairly complete.

Cravath, Bernard, Goodwin, Hall, Ross, Sples and Toren turned out before one o'clock yesterday afternoon for a good hour's work apiece, taking it easier thereafter. Infield practice was ordered for the squad by its capital protein. And Cravath sallied out to third base, Goodwin took short, Ross second and Curtis Bernard first. It was as fine business altogether; such a scrambling and booting and such a careering medley of lewd throwing as is only seen when a bunch of outfielders come to the inner precincts and endeavor to show their basemen brethren how the hags should be played. At that many a worse first baseman than Bernard is drawing pay; Artle Ross is no slouch at playing second base, and the other two seem able to take care of most hot grounders and freaky bounders that jump their way.

Along toward quitting time, better late than never, the elephantine Rusty Hall steamed through the gate at full speed and finally rescued a uniform from a friend who was maltreating it shamefully out on the field.

Twice around the outfield fences for the circuit of the grounds gave Rusty that tired feeling the poets and patent medicine people prate about, so the big fellow came in and began loosening up his good right wing a little.

Some batting practice was on the programme, and the squad took turns hitting fungoes to the fielders where Cravath, Bernard, Goodwin, George Bowman and several volunteers ran their heals nearly off in pursuit.

A trot around the fences wound up the day's fun. "Easy work" will now be the slogan for a few days. Bernard started a little too hard Tuesday and earned a pair of sore legs for his pains.

Cravath has come up from Santa Ana in fair flesh and enjoying the best of health, but has picked up fifteen pounds in three weeks here, and exects to have quite a time getting down to weight as it all seems to be good, healthy beef. "Gavy" is developing into what an Irish mother might aptly term a "broth of a bye;" he is growing more muscular all the time, and is now a whaling big fellow.

Roy Toren the new pitcher is a tall, slender youth of somewhat the same physique as Charley Baum. A wiry, well knit lad with considerable confidence in himself, he stands a good chance to establish himself by faithful work. He is tall, and that is quite an advantage to a twirler; the short ones who succeed are great in spite of their disadvantages in height.

Goodwin did no pitching vesterday to speak of, but showed a quick, snappy whip in the infield practice. According to First Baseman Bernard, he throws a very hard ball to judge, and therefore one that is likely to puzzle batsmen more than a little.

Heinie Spies is a giutton for work if ever there was one.

Artie Ross is rounding to from his spell of sick stomach, and feels more like himself again.

The real business will begin when Dillon steps into harness. The men are merely taking things easily until the arrival of the "Big Cap" after which things will move with a rush.

Ground-keeper McVicker has put the field into playing shape for the team to train upon, and the diamond is as smooth as could be desired. It does not appear to be very hard either, reports to the contrary not withstanding.

The requisite one-aixth of the qualified electors could be found within the territory desiring to secede. This would make the calling of an election obligatory. This would give a fine opportunity for colonization of voters in the proposed new county a few days prior to the election, and the provision prior to the election, and the provision seems to have been designed expression for that purpose. This conviction is strengthened by the further provisions that "the election laws relating to preparation, printing and distribution of sample ballots and the provisions of said laws relating to primary elections in this State shall have no approximate to the state of the state of the state of the provisions of the state of the state of the provisions of the state of the state of the provisions of the state of the state of the provision of the state of the state of the provision of the state of the s

What would this be but special legislation? Why suspend the operation of the regular election laws in this class of crose? Would such suspension be constitutional? Would it be constitutional to withhold from a portion of the vicers of a county the right to tribesmen have maintained all but absolute independence. In a few towns tutional to withhold from a portion of the voters of a county the right to vote on a question vitally concerning them, while conceding to another portion the right to vote on the same question? These are questions which the Supreme Court of the State—and very likely the Supreme Court of the mation—would doubtless be called upon to answer if this obnoxious bill should become a law.

Difficult Task.

Notwithstanding the pleasant relations long existing between the United and the republic of Mexico, it is a matter of notoriety that our sister to the south has not taken altogether kindiy to Uncle Sam's ways and customs. Mexico uses the Spanish language, her military is Frenchified, she practices the ideas of English engineers in her great public improvements, and German traders dominate her commercial affairs. The task of Americannising the Astec country has seemed hopeless. But success is now in sight. Mexico has gone crazy over baseball, the American national game. This is the great entering wedge and the rest will be easy. The baseball fever is sweeping old Mexico now like a prairie fire. The buil ring is deserted, and a cockfight is no longer able to draw a corporal's guard. And the game is not being played by imported Americanos, either, as witness this line-up in a recent match;

This involves the expenditure of about 33,000,000, and will mean the immediate reclamation of 125,000 acres in California and Arizonia, and probably the gradual extension of this project to much larger areas. In fact, this is but the initiation of irrigation work on the Colorado River, which will ultimately result in the development of over 900,000 acres.—[Maxwell's Talisman.

Big Things from Little.

Some interesting statistics have been compiled showing how trifling articles count up in a year on the Santa Fé system. In the four hundred stations between Chicago and the Pacific Coast are slot machines containing gum. Into these machines last year were dropped 1,150,000 pennies for gum, the sum amounting to 311,500. The plns used by the officials and employés of the Santa Fé last year weighed 3000 pounds. To keep the depots and offices clean 25,000 brooms were used. The lead pencils used if placed end to end would make a line 315 miles long. Fifty barrels of ink and 460,000 pens were used. From what is known as the "scrap heap" the company realized last year $1,250,000. This includes almost everything from a shingle nail to a worn-out locomotive. Over $6090 was realized from the sale of waste pipe alone. It is also shown that the company used 3000 pounds of rybber bands and fifteen carloads of printed blanks. The engines burned $2,260,000 barrels of oil and 2,000,000 tons of coal. —[Albaquerque Journal.

Florence has risen into sudden prominence after a long period of what was believed to be decay. It has become the principal entrepot and depot of the Territory. No matter where one wants to go he is obliged to go to Florence to make his start. It's an ill flood that orings nobody good. Speaking of floods, the Gila is destructive for a longer course than any river on the Coast. There are no bridges left across it in the Territory. A telegram was received from Globe last night, saying that that town was isolated again by the reason of the going out of the bridge at flan Carlos.—[Phoenix Republican.

The Happy Hunting Grounds.

The Colorado River, like the Nile, annually overflows when the vast fields of snow in the Rocky Mountains melt and rush down the Gila River into it, and the waters creep out over the desert for miles. Then the Tuma Indians plant garden seed, melons, pumpkins and corn in the damp, warm, rich soil, and go off to hunt rabbits and quall while the crop grows and yields large returns.—[Imperial Standard.

clevands administration we begin to realize the immensity of the change that has come over popular sentiment in only a few years. Then sectional hostility was an open, undisquised fact, and the North was hardly in the mod for magnanimity. But now how different everything is! The unthinkable of thirty years ago, the improbable of less than two decades since, has become the actual of today. The sections once divided by bitter memories have again been welded by sentiment, as wall as the fierce hest of war, into a single whole. And the men on either side who have contributed to this great consummation, Grady, Lamar, McKinley and others, have done for their country what is above all price or praise.—[New Orleans Times-Democrat.

"Ramons" a Success.

Who says that the native play brings uin to the manager that dares protuce it?

ruin to the manager that dares produce it?

"Racmona," as presented by Miss Virginia Calhoun and her company, closed a very successful premiere at the Mason Operahouse last night, and is already booked for many dates.

The "Ramona" business is considered very good, as the show ran but three days. For all performances the gross take was about $5500. Deducting between $3000 and $4000 for general expenses, this will leave a very substantial percentage for the playwrights and a handsome little sum as well for the furtherment of El Camino Real.

The management stated last night that the opening business far exceeded expectations.

Tonight the Wyatt theater of Redlands will be played, while Riverside, Pomona, San Diego and other cities of the Southland will follow in rapid succession. Then the journey to San Francisco will be begun, and dates have been made throughout California.

Figing in the face of advice, "Ramona" has won its first goal; it has proven much more than self-supporting.

Benefit Programme.

The following is the complete programme which will be given at the theatrical benefit at the Mason Operahouse tomorrow afternoon: Three Kelcey sisters, comedy singing and dancing (Casino;) Fay Bainter, juvenile soubrette, songs and dances: Katherine Warde, contraite; Richard B. Harrison, selections from Paul Lawrence Dunbar; Elleford company, third act of "The Belle of Richmond" (Grand;) Ford and Wilson, black-face comedy and grotesque dancing (Orpheum:) Howard Paul, tenor; Figsserald Murghy, actor, playwright and entertainer, stories; Gertrude Cohen, planiste; Happy Jack Gardner, musical monologue (Orpheum;) Burbank Theater, Stock Company, second act of "The War of Wesith" (Burbank;) Quigley prothers, comedy conversationalists (Orpheum;) Cole and Johnson, compos-

The sale of seats, which is going on briskly, indicates that the appearance of Mme. Modjesks in the role of Hermione is looked forward to with more than ordinary interest. The crowd at the auction was not large, but the rivalry was keen and a number of applications for the unsold boxes were made by persons unable to attend the sale.

The proceeds of the benefit will go to the Home of the Good Shepherd, an institution in which Mine. Modicelus is particularly interested, as vice-pres-ment of the Ladies' Auxiliary. With been supporting cast she began rehear-ial yesterday and will continue until the night of the performance.

Dance for Miss Metcalf.

Last evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Erasmus Wilson of Nos 7 Chester Place was aglow with bright flowers and lights, when the host and hostess metalined with a charming dance in honor of their pretty young house tuest. Miss Evah Metcalf of Kansas City. Below stairs Easter lilies were tranged in the reception-room, and in the hail and other rooms pink and white carnations together with ferns were dainty. Above stairs the baliroom presented a joyous appearance. Here a pretty canopy was formed of asparagus ferns, and pink roses garianded hither and hither with great pink knots of antir ribbon softening the lights. In the dome fluffy ferns formed a mass of greenery and fetching bows of pink ribbon set here and there were effective. In the room adjoining, where refreshments were served, baskets of roses adorned the table, and lights were shadowed with pink tulle. Programmes were dainty hand-painted affairs. Handsome gowns and pretty women added much to the celat of the affair. Assisting the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Johnstons, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacParland, ANGELUS CASH THIEF? Pinkertons Arrest Alias Man, Said to Prosecute?

George Mortensen, alias C. F. Williams, alias George Wilson, alias "The Duster," is in jail suspected of having robbed the Angelus Hotel till of $530 two weeks ago, when smooth sneak thieves played a successful game there. Williams is the real name of the man, and Detective Butler, who screeted him, thinks he is one of the smoothest sneak thieves in the country. Butler, who is a Pinkerton man, picked up Williams in the Bristol Cafe Tuesday night and took him to the City Jail, where he was looked up on a "suspicion" charge.

The caged man was not booked and he is held incommunicado until the detectives get through digging, or habeas corpus proceedings are instituted by his friends.

Yesterday Loomis Bros. of the Angelius Hotel, and several of their employes took a look at Williams and two men who saw the sneak thief enter the private office of the hotel just before the robbery are positive that Williams is the man who was lurking in the vicinity at the time.

If Constinated Do This.

This offer may not appear again. There is no catch about it. If Mull's Grape Tonic does not positively cure Constipation, you are out nothing, as you may have the first bottle free. If it cures, which it will, tell others, that is all we ask. No remedy has ever before been known to cure Constipation permanently. Mull's Grape Tonic is not a physic. It is unlike anything you have ever used. It cures Constipation. If it did not, this offer would ruin us. You know from your own experience that physics, like Pills, Salts, Castor. Oil, Mineral Waters, Injections, etc., make you worse.

Where can Mull's Grape Tonic be had?

Your druggist sells it. The $1.00 bottle contains nearly three times the 50c size, but if you will write today to Mull's Grape Tonic Co. 121 Third ave. Rock Island, Ill. and give druggist's name, you will receive the first bottle free with full instructions. This gives us a chance to prove to you at our expense that it is a wonderful remedy and places you under no obligation to invest a penny. Only tell your friends about it.

CONDRON STILL MISSED. SAN DIMAS, March 1.—The disappearance of Victor C. Condron has seen the sensation of the day. On all pearance of victor C. Condron has been the sensation of the day. On all sides may be heard expressions of satisfaction and pleasure that he has left this town. Condron is only 22 years of age. He was formerly a barber in Pomona, where he married one of the Sunset "hello" girls, and moved here a year ago. His first matrimonial venture was not a success, and recently usly rumors have floated in from his former home in the East, which were not very complimentary.

During his one year's residence here there have been so many complaints about his place that the police have watched it most of the time, but so skillfully has he evaded the officers that no arrest was ever made.

A few weeks ago when out on one of his periodical drunks, he held up at the point of a revolver two of the leading citizens in Spadra, and only secaped arrest by pleading with his victims, a few days later, on behalf of his wife and babe.

Fragments Found on Salt Lake Railroad North of Long Beach—Call for Organization of Business Men's Body — Ignorant Gasoline User

LONG BEACH, March 1.—A sack of mangled fiesh, bones and clothing at Walker & Brown's undertaking estab-ishment is all that is left of M. H. nours of the morning about a mile north of Burnett.

The crew of the early-morning train nearing Burnett saw a mass of some-thing lying beside the track and noti-and had the object brought in. It proved to be the remains of a comparatively young man. The Coroner ordered the body taken to Long Beach. It was in horrible shape, with arms, hands and legs cut off, the head twisted completely around and battered into pulp and with no semblance of humanity.

A Knights of Pythias pin was found and also a card on which was the address "M. H. Ransom. Merrill avenue." A query in that neighborhood brought down S. H. Meyers, who identified the clothing and pin as the property of his friend Ransom. Ransom left home Monday for a two days" fishing trip and told his wife he would be home Tuesday evening, but had not returned. The theory is that the unfortunate man went to Terminal Island to dsh and, missing the last passenger train to the city, aftempted to fulfill the promise to his wife by boarding the reight train which left after midnight, and was riding on the bumpers. The night was rainy and windy and at Burnett he lost his footing. Ransom has a wife and two children in Los Angeles. He was formerly a freight conductor on the Pacific Electric, but had not been working lately. His former connection with the electric line makes the theory of his being at Terminal seem the most likely, as otherwise he would have found it easy to get home without waiting for the freight.
